

“Forgive me for...”

“And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love.” 1 Corinthians 13:13

Living in a world where discrimination toward others based gender, race, sexuality, or class still exists, it is easy to see the sins and transgressions of our world. Although sometimes more difficult to acknowledge, we also come to this community knowing that we all have sinned, whether directly through our actions and words or indirectly through our lack of action on injustices we see. No matter what they may be, we pray today knowing that love is what ultimately will prevail and asking to God to “Forgive me for...”

Directions: Take a few moments to thoughtfully consider those actions, words or thoughts which may have driven out love rather than promoted love and inclusivity. As you prayerfully think of these things, use a sharpie to write the items you would like to ask forgiveness for on the board. In doing this, your words on this board will be seen as a confession of sins that will be lifted up together as a community of PYT 2016. Remember, this is a safe, inclusive space and you should feel free to be honest with yourself as you write your message.
